Fu Hong Society “40th Anniversary Symposium: Growing Old and Included—Challenges to Civilised Societies”

Fu Hong Society “40th Anniversary Symposium: Growing Old and Included—Challenges to Civilised Societies” was successfully held on 1-2 June 2017 at Tsang Chan Sik Yue Auditorium, Hong Kong Baptist University (HKBU). Being our first collaborative event with the Department of Social Work of HKBU, the two-day symposium was well received by over 400 participants. Dr. IP Yan-ming, J.P., President of the Society, remarked in his opening address that nowadays, although many community members recognise the merits of persons with disabilities, they are only, to a certain extent, tolerant of persons with disabilities, instead of truly manifesting the spirit of social inclusion.

Keynote speeches covered a wide range of topics, such as “Policies and Measures on Equal Opportunities and Disability Inclusion”, “Support Measures for Ageing People with Intellectual Disabilities”, “Good Practices of Community Based Inclusive Development in Japan and the Asia-Pacific”, and “New Initiative of Family Care Home for Persons with Disabilities”, etc. Keynote speakers included Prof. CHAN Cheung-ming, Alfred, S.B.S., J.P., Chairperson of Equal Opportunities Commission, Mr. FONG Kai-leung, Assistant Director of Social Welfare (Rehabilitation & Medical Social Services) of Social Welfare Department, Mr. David LEUNG, J.P., Commissioner for Rehabilitation of Labour and Welfare Bureau, etc. Throughout the two-day symposium, 24 sessions of panel discussions were organised and topics included “Social Inclusion”, “Coping with Ageing”, “Multi-dimensional Intervention”, etc. Overseas and local professionals were invited to present their academic studies at different panel discussions.

The symposium not only marked the Society’s efforts in serving persons with disabilities over the past four decades, but also enabled the participants to know more about the practical work and achievements of the Society. It is hoped that all parties could join hands with persons with disabilities and their families to brave the challenges of ageing ahead.
